

INVOKING EQUALITY

The moment is imminent
Go forth brave, stake your life
The battlefield waits for you
Eager, fervent, expectant,
Forsake the miserable anxiety
Look up, the dawn's dominance
Illuminates the world.
The vast verdant fields stretching afar,
The battlefield, in brilliant light ;
Their struggle is not your's alone,
But of all countrymen,—
—The much awaited struggle of the people.
Go forth brave, the time has come
With strength in your heart
Hope anew
Zeal rousing your soul
There is much to accomplish hereafter.
You the saviour ! The Leader of countrymen !
Their future
Can people's will still be cast aside ?
Forsake fear, contempt and shame
Don the armour
Forsake the prejudices that cripple our lives
Show the light of hope
And Man's miserable state, sweep away.
